Grossmont Trustees Decide Against a Tax Levy Increase

Tentative Date for Election is Cancelled

Grossmont H. S. Board of Trustees, facing rising costs caused by inflation and division of student body into two high schools, adopted a preliminary curtailed budget which lopped $34,000 from expenditures originally presented. The budget will be published and a public hearing held in August before final adoption. This action will permit the tax rate to be held at the present rate of 75c, which is the maximum permitted without an election.

Tentative plans had been made to call an election Monday, July 30th to increase the rate, but this was declared unnecessary by the board. Three fourths of the high school districts and 90% of the elementary districts in the state have found it necessary to exceed the maximum rates because the state has not assumed its share of costs due to inflation.

The action of the state legislature in placing apportionments on a current growth basis will add $50,000 to the revenue, and this coupled with a cash balance of $230,000 will make possible maintenance of the educational program on the same level as during the past year. Failure of the state to provide the $48,000,000 proposed in legislation will shift a greater burden upon the local property tax, according to Supt. Lewis F. Smith. He declared that a tax election would be held.

Name Delegates to County Group

Fred Ferguson, A. P. Schnell and Thomas Parsons have been named delegates to the San Diego County Development Federation by President Baxter of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce.

Ted Haaf, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, is president of the Federation.

Little other business was transacted at the directors' meeting of the Chamber Tuesday evening. Lack of business was due, no doubt, to the July Fourth holiday.

The Chamber is going to distribute copies of the new directory to every home in the area, and at the same time compile a list of all residents, together with their addresses and telephone numbers.

Esther Stevenson Still in Hospital

The many friends of Esther Rae Stevenson, who has been in a hospital in Phoenix for nearly three weeks, will be happy to know that she has regained consciousness.

However, Esther has not been able to speak, but writes short messages. She has a private nurse in attendance constantly. She enjoys having the nurses and visitors read to her and enjoys getting cards from her friends.

As to her physical condition, all head wounds have healed. The first of the week xrays were taken of her jaws and also of the broken leg.

Mrs. Harry S. Mann of Spring Valley, intimate friend of the family, keeps in touch with the hospital.

Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Otto Pierson and daughter, Eleanor, of Stockton, friends of the family, spent last week in Phoenix, visiting Esther each day. They are now guests in the H. S. Mann home.

Comdr. Pierson is a cousin of Otto Samuelson, who was also injured in the accident, and he reports that Samuelson is recovering nicely and anxious to get back on his ship.

Anyone wishing to send cards, books or other gifts to Esther Rae, may address her at Memorial Hospital, Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stevenson and her sister, Bonnie, were killed in the auto accident which also took the lives of two people in the other car.

Dorman Again Heads Trustees

Vroman J. Dorman was re-elected president of the Lemon Grove School Trustees at the reorganization meeting of the board held this week.

L. H. Herder was re-named clerk and Harry Griffin is the third member.

Business offices of the school district are located upstairs in the Medical Center, 7856 Golden Avenue.

The new phone number for the business office is H 6-3286.

Supt. Byron L. Netzel is attending classes at U. C. L. A. part of each week and spending the rest of the time in the school offices here.

BACK FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Winter and son Ellis, of 7563 Pacific, returned from a two weeks vacation during which time they visited Mrs. Winter's parents in Spokane, Wash., and friends in Bakerfield, Oakland, and Palo Alto.

Mr. Winter, local public accountant, has his office at 3442 Main. Ernie, as he is known to most of the local businessmen, says it is unfortunate that we have in Lemon Grove and San Diego current use some of the excess water from the lakes and rivers in Washington and Oregon.

The public is cordially invited to hear their story in music, song and pictures at 10:45 Sunday morning at the Lutheran Church, Skyline at Alton.

Mrs. Herlekson is a sister of Palmer Svalstad, 7536 San Miguel, and with her daughters will arrive today (Thursday) to visit in the Svalstad home until the first of the week.

On their trip, they have given their message in the Lutheran Churches in South Dakota, Colorado, Arizona and California, and will travel north through Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

Water District to Build Shops on El Cajon Site

La Mesa-Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Irrigation District directors voted 3 to 2 this week to locate district supply and maintenance shops in El Cajon.

La Mesa Chamber of Commerce delegates attended the board meeting, but failed to protest the directors' selection of the El Cajon building site on Main St.

Director Jack Schrade, spearheading support for the El Cajon location, maintained that the major portion of the district's future growth will be in El Cajon Valley, and that the site would require very little grading.

Directors Joe Levikow and Ruben Levy contended that the district's immediate needs are concentrated in the La Mesa area.

Schrade's motion to purchase the El Cajon site from the American Pipe Co. of Los Angeles for $22,500 was supported by Directors Harry Griffin and Bert Fenwick.

Local Winners at County Fair

As usual, many local ladies are winning prizes or ribbons in the clothing and textile departments at the County Fair.

Among those listed are Mrs. Edwin C. West, first on crocheted bed spread; and Mrs. George Leonard, first on crocheted vanity set. Many other beautiful articles of handwork were entered by local artists.

Competition was keen and it was not unusual to hear spectators remark that they would have judged differently.

However, the judges were no doubt, qualified and impartial, and if possible would have given each entrant an award.

There is probably no other department in the fair which displays so much patience, artistic talent, perseverance and time spent in production.

WORD FROM ELSTERS

A card received from Rev. Le Roy Elster, pastor of the Lutheran Church, stated they were leaving Monday from Lynden, Wash., where they had been visiting Mrs. Elster's parents, enroute home from Minneapolis, points in Wisconsin and Butte, neau, North Dakota.

Form Helix Band and Orchestra

A new organization making itself well known in the La Mesa-Lemon Grove area is the Helix High School Band and Orchestra Parents Service Club. As the title indicates, this group's purpose is to serve and benefit the students of the Helix "Green and Silver" Band, and even at this early date the club has initiated several important projects to raise money for uniforms for the Marching Band. Since only a small sum is issued from within the school for such uniforms, it will be necessary for the new organization to raise some $3,000.00 by the beginning of school, it is possible so that the band and its director, Daniel Lewis, can fulfill their invitation to open the annual Football Carnival on September 21.

Letters have been mailed to many of the service clubs in the Helix area asking for donations to the band and the response has been quite favorable. A committee of the Band-Orchestra Parents Service Club has been formed to visit the merchants individually and already several have agreed to donate the equivalent cost of a uniform apiece. They are Hazelip's Pharmacy, Sonka Brothers and Lindley Pharmacy.

Later in the year this group will sponsor a formal party for the members of the band and orchestra and at the end of May they will provide an awards dinner at which time all parents may attend and witness the presentation of awards to outstanding music pupils.

The current project in which all citizens may help is the large rummage sale to be given on August 2, 3 and 4. This sale is under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. W. Hire and Mrs. Grace Brown. All types of dishes, furniture, clothing, hardware, plants, etc. will be appreciated. The sale location will be at 4691 Date St., La Mesa, and the following telephone numbers may be called to arrange for pick-up: T 3932, H 6-5638, H 6-5406. The more articles sold, the more uniforms for the band!

Prior to the rummage sale, a paper drive sponsored by the La Mesa Jr. Chamber of Commerce, will take place on July 8. Anyone having used magazines or old newspapers may arrange to have it picked up by calling T 1-1537 or the La Mesa Jr. Chamber of Commerce.

Officers of the Band and Orchestra Parents Service Club are: Mrs. Mores Keller, President, C. W. Hire, vice president, Mrs. Herder, treasurer and Mrs. B. D. Selfridge, secretary.

Expect New Pumper Truck Here Soon

Fire Chief Raymond Carmody left for Los Angeles Monday to attend an eight weeks' fire school. This school is especially designed for chiefs and teaches them the latest methods of fire fighting and fire prevention. It is highly recommended by the underwriters whose instructions the commissioners have been endeavoring to follow to insure Lemon Grove of the best type of fire protection.

One item that most folks are not aware of is when a new fire district is formed it takes between six months and a year for the department to get set up, before the underwriters will endeavor to give them their formal rating. At the rate we are now progressing it seems probable that we will be able to get our rating well within the six months to a year period.

The new 1,000 gallon pumper truck is due to arrive at any time. This will complete the equipment. A period of intensive training on all pieces of equipment will follow. Then the district will be ready for underwriters to make their check.

Will Present Resuscitator to Fire Department

The Lemon Grove Lions Club is going to present a resuscitator to the Fire District.

The resuscitator is here, and being exhibited by the club, during a fund raising campaign to pay for it.

When all of the money is raised, announces Grant Hadley, president of the club, the presentation will be made at a public ceremony.

The resuscitator, invented by a doctor at the Glendale Sanitarium is both an inhalator and respirator, and will be a valuable asset to the local department.

Donations may be made towards the fund by the people of the community.

R. C. Swimming Classes Start

Girls of Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, La Mesa and Rolando will have Red Cross swimming lessons at Gillespie Pool on Tuesdays and the boys from that area on Thursdays. They are requested to have their money ready for passes the first morning.

of Main Street and the World

Korean Conflict Is One Year Old; World War May Have Been Averted

SOON, IF AT ALL—A few days ago—June 25—the Korean war was one year old. Today, after a year of fighting Communism in battle, the questions uppermost in the minds of most Americans is what are the chances for world peace? Is World War III nearer or more remote?

A great many unknown factors and "ifs" arise with such questions. But there is a growing belief in the world today that a general war is more remote than a year ago. This reasoning is based mainly upon two points: (1) The free nations of the world are growing stronger every day; (2) the free world has demonstrated in deeds as well as words it will resist aggression.

There is one fact that none of the free nations of the world is overlooking. There is the possibility, in the face of the west's growing strength, that the Soviet Union realizes it must act soon, if at all. To wait would only give the west time to grow so strong that victory for Communism would be an impossibility.

The Korean war seems to have accomplished several things. It brought to life the west's lagging plans to marshal military, political and economic resources to meet future aggression. And these moves may have served as a deterrent to ambitious aggressors.

TEXAS TOUR—Gen. Douglas MacArthur flew to Texas for a number of official receptions and speeches. For three days he preached his doctrine of a realistic approach to far east problems. He went so far in a Dallas speech as to say "It is fantastically unrealistic to refuse to accept the fact that we are at war—a bitter, savage and costly war."

But the colorful general who has caused more controversy in a few months than many prominent figures do in a lifetime, departed from his main theme to take a slap at the domestic policies of the Truman administration.

"There are those who seek to make the burden of taxation so great and the progressive increases so alarming that the spirit of adventure, tireless energy, and masterful initiative which built the material strength of the nation shall become stultified and inert," he said. "There are those who seek to make all men servants of the state."

The departure from the main theme of his speeches since he returned to the United States increased speculation that the general may be planning a political career despite his assertion he is not interested in entering politics. The Texas visit has been called a test for future political moves.

GRAIN FOR INDIA—The long delayed grain for India bill, lending India $100,000,000 on easy terms to buy to 2,000,000 tons of U.S. wheat and other basic foodstuffs, was signed into law by President Truman.

The bill was subject to months of heavy debate in congress before it was finally passed. Critics argued that India's opposition to some U.S. policies in Korea made her an ill deserving beneficiary. Backers said it had a humanitarian purpose and, besides, it would help line up India with the western world as opposed to the Communist bloc.

In the months of debate many forgot the fact that the food purchased by the loan will prevent famine in India. It was the only humane thing this nation could do.

PRICE CONTROLS—By the time this reaches print the defense production act which gives the government the power to control prices, wages and rents may or may not have been extended. In all probability it will have, but it will not contain the broader powers as asked by President Truman.

Special interests—the cattle industry, landlords, the building industry and others—have used every trick at their command to get amendments tacked to the act that would be to their advantage.

As a result, the house banking committee voted tentatively to knock out two future price rollbacks on live cattle planned by the office of price stabilization. Also, the senate banking committee voted to renew and expand the government's rent-control program. But the senate committee at the same time recommended a raise in some of the rent ceilings.

The committee felt that a 20 per cent increase should be allowed in some areas. Many of these areas already had from 10 to 30 per cent increases above 1942 levels.

As for the house vote on beef rollbacks, it was a direct slap at the administration's beef policies. The vote was in the form of an amendment that would limit future price rollbacks on all agricultural commodities to 50 per cent of prices on May 19, 1951.

Whatever its form, the new defense production act will be far from what President Truman asked.

MACARTHUR HEARINGS—Any day now the MacArthur hearings will close. It would be interesting to know what historians will make of the incident and read into the millions of words of testimony.

No hearing or debate in American history ever caused so much comment in the big towns and the home towns of the nation. And possibly no incident in modern history, excepting World War II and the Korean war, received such coverage in the nation's press. It made good reading in dailies and small town newspapers alike.

The debate may have been good for the nation, and certainly, was carried out in the best American tradition of free speech and thought. But there was one regrettable aspect of the hearing. Our potential enemies now know the inner thoughts and reasoning of American foreign policy. Our policies are an open book to the entire world.

RESERVISTS TO GO HOME—Home town enlisted reservists—not members of organized reserve or national guard units—are going to be released by the army. Approximately 100,000 will be released in the next six months.

There will be no "point system" or other inflexible standards to determine the order in which the reservists are released. Each unit will set up its own standards, giving "primary consideration" to maintaining maximum effectiveness.

But veterans who served 90 days or more during World War II are to be let out first under the general standards set up by the army. Reservists who have had previous military service other than World War II are to get second priority.

Truman Presented With 4-H Club Key

Marjorie Nold, Savannah, Mo., and Richard Golob, Sunnyside, Wash., delegates to the 21st National 4-H Club Camp in the nation's capital, present a 4-H club key to President Truman. More than 200 delegates from 48 states, U.S. territories, and seven nations attended the camp.

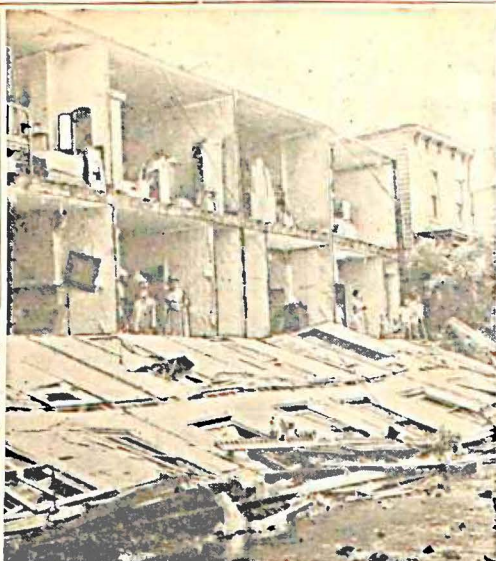

AMERICAN DOCUMENTS

Constitution to be Preserved in Glass

America's most precious documents—the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution—will be preserved permanently in glass, it was announced recently in Washington.

Work on finding a suitable way of preserving the parchments began a decade ago, but was interrupted by World War II. Since the revival of the project, officials of the Library of Congress, scientists of the National Bureau of Standards and Thermopane technicians of Libbey-Owen-Ford glass company have spent nearly four years perfecting special bronze and glass enclosures for the job.

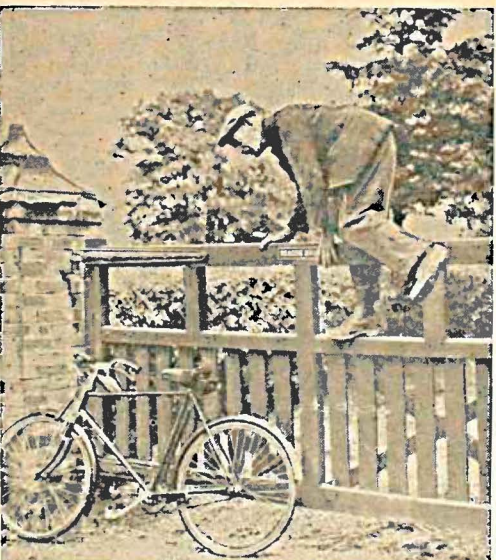

When the two historical symbols of democracy are once safely stored in glass they will be available for inspection by the public.

TORNADO DAMAGE... Amazed home-dwellers find themselves with plenty of air conditioning as a result of a 30-mile-an-hour tornado that ripped through Richmond, Virginia. At least 50 persons were injured, hundreds were left homeless, and property damage was estimated in the millions. House above was in 25-block section ripped by the tornado. The entire front wall of the two-story structure was neatly ripped off, producing house with a view.

DOUBLY PROUD... Mrs. Marlene Shettel Slovick, 21, proudly holds her diploma from Pennsylvania College for Women in one hand and her six-day-old daughter in the other. Special commencement exercises were held for Mrs. Slovick in Pittsburgh's Mercy hospital. Dr. Paul Anderson, PCW president and commencement speaker Clifton Fadiman made a special trip to present the mortarboard and diploma to the happy young woman.

AFTER THE HORSE HAS GONE... The gardener at the Tatfield, England, home of Donald MacLean, missing British diplomat, climbs over the gate at the entrance to the MacLean grounds on his way home from work. The gate has been kept locked since the story of MacLean's disappearance hit the headlines. It was suggested to authorities that MacLean and fellow diplomat Guy Burgess were back in England, but there has been no proof.

FIRST OF RACE... For the first time since the Spanish-American war the army has awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for heroism to a negro. The nation's highest award was granted posthumously to Pfc. William Thompson, 22, New York City, who died in Korea while performing a one-man delaying action to save his comrades. Mother, Mrs. Mary Henderson, bows head as she reads newspaper clippings of her son's heroism in action.

Consumer's View

President Truman has always felt that he made a mistake in yielding to cabinet advisers in October 1946 when he modified price controls on meat. This is one reason why he has become literally a personal crusader against the meat packers and for the consumer in the current battle over price controls.

Conferring privately with his congressional leaders last week, the President really let loose at the big meat packers.

"They are worried about losing some of their big profits," he declared. "But they have brought it on themselves by inflating prices and squeezing the consumer."

He added that certain vocal elements among the cattlemen do not speak for the livestock industry.

"I have some close friends in the business out in my area, which is the biggest cattle market in the world," Truman continued, "and they tell me that they are not at all disturbed by the government's controls on beef."

"These men came to Washington and talked it over with Mike Di Salle. They want to make money like everybody else, but they are putting the national interest above selfish interests."

If the anti-price control lobby had its way and all price controls were abolished, the American consumer wouldn't be the only victim, the President emphasized. Many dairy and poultry farmers would be hard hit, he explained, since wealthy cattle interests could outbid them for feed grains, which are in short supply.

The same feed is required for chickens and dairy cattle as for beef cattle, Truman said, and beef producers would be willing to pay almost any price to fatten up their cattle for market, knowing they could pass the extra cost on to consumers if there were no controls.

"The trouble is we in congress are not hearing from the consumers on this," remarked Rep. Paul Brown of Georgia. "We are hearing a lot from the other side, which is against controls, but the consumer isn't saying very much."

"Oh, yes, he is," responded Truman. "I'm the representative of the consumer."

Marshall vs. MacArthur

Real fact about Secretary of Defense Marshall's trip to Tokyo was that he wanted to be in Korea at this particular time—the rainy season—because he is interested in the morale of the men.

The secrecy surrounding his trip was partly a test and had little to do with the enemy. Marshall has been miffed over the leak of important secrets from the Pentagon, and wanted to see whether plans for his trip would also leak. He made the plans more than three weeks ago, but told only two or three people. They didn't leak.

It's significant that Marshall visited Tokyo almost immediately after General MacArthur left. It's no secret that the two men never got along well, Marshall having been a strong Pershing man and the young captain on Pershing's staff who worked out the strategy for the transfer of the American expeditionary force from St. Mihiel to the Meuse-Argonne front without the enemy knowing it. Military experts pronounced this an amazing job.

While Marshall was an unobtrusive 36-year-old captain with Pershing, MacArthur was a spectacular 37-year-old brigadier general with the Rainbow division. After the war, MacArthur kept in the limelight, first as commander of West Point, later as a brigadier general in the Philippines, then as chief of staff, Marshall meanwhile was only a colonel—despite the fact that he had Pershing's potent backing.

However, Pershing and MacArthur weren't getting along well, and MacArthur, not Pershing, was on the upgrade in the army. Both were rivals at one time for the hand of Louise Cromwell, daughter of the J. P. Morgan partner, Edward T. Stotesbury. In the end, she turned down the widower Pershing, married the younger man—MacArthur. Meanwhile, with MacArthur in the saddle, Marshall remained a lowly colonel. It was not until 1938, after MacArthur had been transferred to the Philippines more or less permanently, that Roosevelt recognized Marshall's ability.

Aussie Friend of U.S.

Sir Keith Murdoch, who owns most of the newspapers in Australia and is a potent friend of the United States, visited Washington the other day on one of his annual trips between London and "down under."

Sir Keith's observations on the U.S.A. are worth noting. He found us: 1. The best-informed nation in the world; and 2. the nation with the freest discussion of problems in the world.

AROUND THE HOUSE

If you must bang a dry floor mop against something to shake the dust out of it, whack it against the heel of your hand. Knocking against window sills and door-jamb shortens the life of a mop.

Apartment dwellers who have no outdoor place to shake a mop can get it clean by placing the head inside a large brown paper bag; choke the mouth of the bag around the mop handle, and shake. Or, put the mop on the floor upside down, and hold a vacuum cleaner over it to draw off the dirt and dust.

To remove grass stains from washables, add a few drops of amyl acetate to a thick soap solution and rub it thoroughly into the stains. After that, rinse the garment at least three times in clear water. On whites, peroxide may be used if needed. Or flush the stain with alcohol, and then with clear water.

By using soap and water you can get a higher gloss on your woodwork or wooden floors by adding three tablespoonsful of turpentine to the wash water. Wipe the wood with a clean dry cloth or mop when you're finished, and you'll notice the gloss. For that matter, a teaspoonful of baking soda added to the wash water will do almost as much good.

To keep paint from getting all over the handle of your brush, drive a small nail or tack into the handle just above the metal "collar" that holds the bristles. Leave the head of the tack and about a quarter of an inch besides to protrude so that, when you stop using the brush, it can be kept out the paint by hanging the tack on the lip of the can.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

Water Drips Through Ceiling
QUESTION: We plan to remodel our kitchen and have a problem to contend with. The home we purchased a year ago is a two-family house. We want to remodel our kitchen on the main floor because the plaster on the ceiling is in bad condition. We now have a nine-foot ceiling and wish to lower it to eight feet. Is there some kind of waterproofing to use so that the water won't run through our ceiling when we put on the new plaster?

ANSWER: The real answer to the problem is to cover the floor of the upstairs kitchen with a good magnesite composition floor with a cove base of the same material. It should be properly laid by an experienced floor contractor. The water that runs through the floor not only runs your ceiling but may also rot the sub-floor or joists. As the house belongs to you, there should be no difficulty in having the work done.

100 YEARS OF BROTHERHOOD YMCA Charts Five-Part Program To Cover Rural Areas of Nation

(The second of two articles.)

One hundred years ago the Young Men's Christian Association, known familiarly as the "Y," was founded in the U. S. to fight vice, degradation and delinquency in the cities. Now, in planning its next century, the YMCA is going to move into small towns and rural areas.

EVERYBODY but Columbia Pictures has plans for Rita Hayworth; her home studio is just waiting for her to report for work. With a large part of the American public agog to see her because of her much publicized romance, they could put her into a dramatization of the alphabet and make millions. Virginia Van Upp has completed two stories for Rita, and it is rumored that Metro wants to borrow her for "The Merry Widow." What would really make the customers storm the box offices would be a remake of "The Shiek," co-starring her with Tony Dexter, of "Valentino" fame. Or would that come dangerously close to being autobiographical?

Gertrude Astor begins her 37th year in pictures by playing the role of the landlady in "The Dark Page." She says she must have appeared in 1400 films, beginning in 1914 when she went to California to work in "Under Two Flags."

Jackie Kell, "Homer" of "The Aldrich Family," has just received an offer of more than $5,000 for his extensive postage stamp collection; it was made by Louis Ramvuela, who owns cattle ranches in Argentina. Kell hates to sell it.

Meredith Willson's "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," written as a theme song for "The Big Show" and introduced six months ago, has been recorded by top artists, become a standard item on programs of Elio Pina, Gracie Fields and Jan Peerce, is used for assembly closing in schools, colleges and churches, and is the song most popular with GIs in Korea.

Joan Fontaine got very little publicity when she courted Madam Peron, did somewhat better when she did Paris with Prince Aly Khan, whose marriage to Rita reaped headlines for her.

GOP Again Faced With Lack of Positive Platform

By Wright A. Patterson

THE REPUBLICANS have named their time and place, July 7, 1952, at Chicago. The especially important part of the next presidential campaign remains. I believe the most important is the party program, the stating in clear and definite terms what the party proposes to the American voters. In many ways, it is of more importance at this time than the selection of candidates.

That program must be of a positive nature. No longer can the party appeal successfully to the voters by merely "viewing with alarm" the policies and actions of the opposition. What the voters want to know is what the Republicans will do if they are returned to power. They want the assurance that there will be a definite turn to the right; that our free enterprise system will be preserved; that the continuous growth in the bureaucratic army will stop, and the numbers of that army be diminished.

They want to be assured that we will continue our war preparations, but will discontinue, for a time at least, the unnecessary home projects that we can get along without, and by so doing, relieve the taxpayer of a considerable portion of the load he has been carrying.

Such are some of the definite pronouncements the voters are looking for. They will not be satisfied with only condemnation for the present, or any past, administration.

The YMCA began aiding servicemen during the Civil War when Y workers, called "Christians" by the soldiers, followed both armies to serve decently cooked hot meals, help tend the wounded and insist on the humane treatment of prisoners of war. In the Spanish American War, they introduced doughnuts and coffee to soldiers. At one battle they arrived with their rations some three hours ahead of the troops! During World War I, the Y, according to General Pershing, performed 90 per cent of the welfare work for soldiers overseas and during the recent conflict, as now, the YMCA comprised one-third of the soldier-service organization known as the U.S.O.

The best of the Y's hundred years of experience will go into the new five-part program designed to cover non-urban areas. The organization will work this way:

1. The Small City Association, to operate as independent units in cities under 25,000 population.
2. The Town and Country Association, covering both farms and small towns in a single county or group of counties.
3. The County Branch, covering a rural area centered about a large city.
4. The Outreach Program, extending from a thriving city YMCA to cover small neighboring communities.
5. The District Program, all rural, directed by the state YMCA organization but sponsored socially and financially by the area served.

FINANCIAL PROBLEMS, of course, will play a large part in the Y's scheduled rural drive. YMCA officials emphasize that the Y can not and will not begin at the outset to construct large, streamlined buildings, with hotel space, gymnasium, meeting rooms and swimming pools in order to lure members. A YMCA, they explain, must first establish a firm spiritual foundation and a record for concrete service to the community before it can begin to think in terms of permanent headquarters.

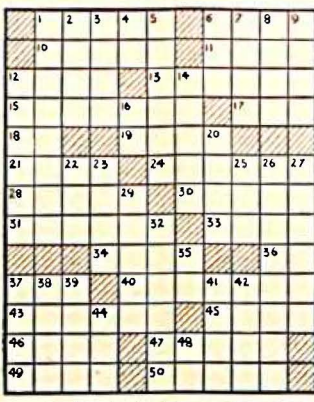

Instead, the organization burden will fall largely on the rural secretary, a YMCA career man who has been given special training for his job and, more likely than not, been educated at one of the Y's twenty-five degree-granting colleges. He will begin, like the founder of the first YMCA in Boston in December of 1851, by interesting social-minded members of the community in the Y movement. He may work through churches of all denominations or through the public schools. Depending upon how long he has been in the area he will spend three months to a year observing local conditions and then report lengthily to his superiors on how, in his opinion, the YMCA can best improve its foothold in your community and extend its services to the people who live there.

The stated purpose of the Y, which is to develop Christian leadership among the nation's youth, has already helped to mould the character of such YMCA alumni as President Truman, U.S. Supreme Court Justice Douglas, Gene Tunney, Senator Robert Taft of Ohio and thousands of other figures of national importance. Its fondest hope for the future is that it can help to build similar qualities in the young men and women who must see the nation safely through its next hundred years.

ANOTHER GOOD CROP

By James B. Holm

FARM FOLKS are always asking a squirrel for information and advice on law. Dave Tidwell was no exception.

Dave was a leathery faced man in his sixties. I was attracted by his peach tree on his place, then in full bearing. He gave me a few peaches.

Dave's place didn't look any too prosperous. He spoke of his dilapidated old car near the barn.

"I guess I'll never have money enough to buy a new one," he said. "Can't make anything on this place now."

I could see he had something else on his mind. Pretty soon he started to ask questions.

"Squire, who does money belong to if it's found hidden in a man's barn?"

"Why, I suppose it would belong to him, unless someone else could prove direct ownership," I told him. More questions were asked, rather caustically. At length he said:

"I used to have a hired man named Obie Hart. Don't know if you ever heard of him or not. He's dead now. He was a good fellow."

"When he was a young man, he and his brother Sid lived around here. Obie got engaged to a girl but she threw him over for Sid. Obie always hated Sid for that and left home. Never spoke to Sid again. He came to work for me nearly forty years ago and stayed until last year when he died. I didn't pay him much but he saved his money. He didn't trust banks, either, and he never married."

I could see he had something else on his mind. Pretty soon he started to ask questions.

"AFTER HE GOT sick last year Obie didn't live long. One day I was talking to him and he said, 'Dave, if anything happens to me I got money enough in my clothes to bury me. Better get it right now—over there.' I did and we counted it out. He acted like he wanted to tell me something more, but all he ever said was that he didn't want Sid to have anything of his."

"A few days later Obie died. The money wasn't quite enough to bury him, but that was all right. I paid the balance. Sure enough, Sid came snooping around, inquiring about Obie's money. I told him what I knew but I guess he didn't believe me. Argued on it and huffed and puffed. Was real ugly about it, too. He claimed Obie's clothes and watch. Probably his by law anyhow. I couldn't prove anything different, could I?"

"Now here a couple of weeks ago I was working in the barn and came across a wad of ten dollar bills stuck away in a mortise slot. Wasn't a great deal. I don't know who put it there. Who does the money belong to?"

"Dave," I said, "I can't advise you, but if it had been me that found it, I wouldn't do any hunting for an owner. It's your barn, isn't it?"

We looked at each other with the light of understanding between us.

"I don't know if there's any more there or not," said Dave. "As I said, I don't know what Obie did with his money. He must have accumulated quite a little in forty years. He may have done something with it I don't know about, or anyone. Anyhow, he liked to be alone around the barn a great deal."

"Dave," I said, "what people don't know won't hurt them. If I found any money in my barn I would regard it as another good crop. If anyone thought different, it would be up to him to prove his claim."

Dave looked satisfied. "I guess I can trust you, can't I, squire?"

I forgot all about the matter until a year later. Then Dave Tidwell came to my office carrying a half bushel basket of peaches.

"These are some of the peaches you liked so well, squire," he said. "I had another nice crop this year. Matter of fact, all crops were good this year. No charge, my regards."

The look he gave me was a peculiar, knowing one and confidential like.

I looked out my window and saw Dave drive away. He was driving a nice new automobile. It was a make that must have cost twenty-five hundred dollars or more.

Serve Protein-Rich Foods for Summer Meals To Repair Tissues

"SHE SETS A GOOD TABLE," in days gone by was the very last word in compliments for good homemakers. Cold or hot weather, this means a table laden with foods which had that important stick-to-the-rib quality, namely, meat, fish, poultry or cheese.

Though salads and cooling desserts are much in demand for hot weather, no smart homemaker forgets that her family is active in work and particularly in play. This means they need to re-build and repair body tissue and muscle, and nutritionally speaking, protein foods must find a place in the diet.

A "good table" is still as essential as it was in grandmother's day, and is possible when food wisdom, beauty and imagination are used for its preparation.

Cheese Pegs are a good example of a nice choice for supper. Protein-rich cheese is combined with mashed potatoes, butter and egg, then fried to a golden brown. Serve them with garden vegetables for a well-balanced meal.

Cheese Pegs, Vegetable Platter (Serves 6)
2 cups mashed potatoes
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup shredded Old English cheese, processed type
1 egg
1/2 cup fine cracker crumbs
Dash of nutmeg
Salt, pepper
1 cup soured cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1 1/2 tablespoons horseradish
Salt, cayenne, paprika

1 cauliflower
Plum tomatoes
Cucumber wedges
Cooked, whole green beans
Combine hot mashed potatoes, butter, cheese, beaten egg, 1/4 cup cracker crumbs and seasonings to taste; mix well.

Roll on bread board, sprinkled with remaining crumbs. Roll in cylinders 1/2-inch thick. Cut into 2-inch lengths and fry in deep fat heated to 400°F. Drain well.

Combine the soured cream, mayonnaise, lemon juice, mustard, horseradish, salt, cayenne and paprika to taste. Chill well.

Separate cauliflower into flowerets and chill thoroughly after washing. Place in center of platter and surround with tomatoes, cucumbers and whole green beans. Serve with soured cream dressing and hot cheese pegs as an accompaniment.

HOT POTATO SALAD is a popular meal, especially when served with a budget meat, frankfurters. Both potatoes and frankfurters are rich in proteins.

Pan-Fried Franks (Serves 4-5)
Heat 2 tablespoons fat in a heavy skillet and put in 8-10 frankfurters whole. Brown moderately fast on all sides, cooking until heated through. Serve immediately.

Well-seasoned hot potato salad is a welcome treat when served with pan-fried frankfurters. Neither the salad nor the frankfurters takes much cooking, and will help keep your kitchen cool when the temperature's soaring.

Welsh rabbit becomes interesting when you add an egg for richness, then add a small can of salmon flaked and just a touch of onion juice for flavor. Serve on toast triangles.

Jars that have to be reprocessed because of a faulty lid should be processed one-third to one-fourth the original time required for the vegetable.

Cheese Pegs are a tasty supper idea for warm weather meals when served with garden vegetables. Cooked green beans, small tomatoes and cauliflower teamed with soured cream dressing offer a balanced and texture-contrasting accompaniment to the cheese.

Hot Potato Salad (Serves 6)
8 boiling potatoes
6 slices bacon
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped or thinly sliced onion
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup vinegar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar

Scrub potatoes but do not peel. Cook until just tender in boiling, salted water. Meanwhile, pan brown until crisp; remove from drippings and crumble. Lightly brown green pepper and onion in bacon drippings; remove from pan. To fat remaining in pan, add flour and blend well. Add water gradually, then vinegar. Cook over direct heat, stirring constantly until mixture boils and thickens. Add salt and sugar. Peel and dice hot potatoes, add green pepper and onion to them. Pour on but dressing. Mix lightly and serve hot.

A GOOD VEGETABLE to serve with an otherwise cold dinner of sliced meat and cheese is this one made with cabbage and green pepper:

Pennsylvania Dutch Pepper Cabbage (Serves 6)
1 small head cabbage (2 pounds)
1 teaspoon salt
1 medium onion, grated
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cream
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1 green or red pepper, chopped
Chop cabbage fine. Add salt, onion and sugar. Let stand one hour. Blend cream and vinegar. Pour over cabbage. Add pepper and mix thoroughly.

A TANGY PIE which includes protein-rich eggs is an excellent dessert choice for hot weather meals. This one goes well with a hearty meal because it's light and airy with a refreshing flavor of lemon:

Lemon Velvet Chiffon Pie
1/2 cup sugar
4 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup boiling water
2 eggs
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 tablespoon plain gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup light cream

Mix together sugar, cornstarch and salt in a saucepan. Add boiling water, and while stirring, cook until thick and smooth. Remove from heat and mix in beaten egg yolks and butter. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add lemon juice and peel. Stir in gelatin that has been dissolved in cold water. Blend in cream. Let set until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into baked 9-inch pie shell and let stand in a cool place until thick. If desired, served with a topping of whipped cream.

Stuffed peppers with ham or chicken are something of a novelty. Fill the parboiled green peppers with a mixture of ham or chicken mixed with cooked rice and seasonings including basil. Sprinkle with cheese and bake. Serve with heated tomato soup, as a sauce.

Tender green beans, fresh out of the garden, do proudly as your vegetable for company dinners. Cook them with a bit of sugar, then drain and season with a dusting of salt, pepper and melted butter in some hot cream.

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

The drama, the excitement, the pay-off in presidential politics is victory at the polls.

But long before the pay-off and ere a vote is cast, there's the matter of jockeying for position and lining up delegates in the various States to see who will be granted a shot at the jackpot by each party. All but two of the multitudinous presidential hopefuls will be eliminated from consideration just 12 months from now, at the Democratic and Republican National conventions, each to be held in Chicago.

So while it helps to be popular with the people, the man who wants to be President first must be popular with the delegates to the National Convention of his party. This is the season for sounding out delegates from California to Maine, and from Washington to Florida, finding out which are apt to be uncommitted and open to "reason" and which are tied to someone's political kite and out of reach. In the intense battle for the Republican nomination, Ohio's Senator Robert A. Taft is far in front of all possible nominees but General Dwight D. Eisenhower, the surveys show. Needing somewhat over 550 delegates to win the nomination, Taft, pollsters report, is considerably stronger this year than he has ever been before.

With the battle for convention ballots still a year away, political observers, in narrowing the GOP choice down to Eisenhower and Taft, are of the opinion that only if Eisenhower refuses to be considered would still another Republican hopeful stand a chance of serious consideration for nomination, and that slight.

Eisenhower's support, the survey experts indicate, comes principally from the East and West Coasts.

Taft, on the other hand, finds his principal strength in the Midwest and in areas of the South. On the Democratic side, the professionals are inclined at the moment to believe President Truman will run again. Truman, all observers are confident, certainly has the Democratic nomination for the asking, if he wants it. If the President turns down a chance at another term, he will have complete control, too, of who will run in his place, the experts state.

Most likely person to get the nod from Truman, in the event he bows out, would be Chief Supreme Court Justice Fred Vinson. A secondary Truman pick, according to observers, might be General Eisenhower, who while generally considered a Republican, appears acceptable to some elements of the Democratic party.

FROM THE NEWS CIRCUIT
JAMES DORAIS

The struggle for possession of the oil-rich tidelands of California, Texas and Louisiana, has produced one of the most barefaced attempts at bribery ever voiced in the halls of Congress—a proposal that royalties received under the attempted Federal land grab be used to finance a program of Federal Grants-in-aid for education.

Until three and one-half years ago, California had always believed that it had clear title to its off-shore lands, from which it had collected many millions of dollars in oil royalties. Then came a controversial Supreme Court decision holding that the Federal Government had "paramount authority" over the lands. That decision merely had the effect of clouding the title; since that time royalties have been put in escrow pending Congressional action establishing tidelands ownership either by the States or the Federal government.

A majority of Congress has voted to confirm State ownership but legislation to that effect was vetoed by the President. Proponents of Federal confiscation have tried to sell their point of view without success. The argument was even used that the war emergency made it imperative that the Federal Government be given possession of the tidelands because petroleum is a basic material of war. That argument made scant impression, for the obvious reason that not a barrel more of oil would be produced under Federal rather than State landownership.

The aid-to-education proposal is a new tack, designed to enlist the support of other States by dangling in front of their eyes the promise of Federal funds to be confiscated from the three States of California, Texas and Louisiana. The fact that these funds have been used by the three States involved for their own educational purposes is of no concern to the land-grab advocates.

It is doubtful that this rather obvious attempted bribe will get any place for the reason that a basic issue of States' rights is involved, an issue of real importance not just to the Tidelands States but to all States. It should be of importance, for example, to North Dakota, which has been experiencing an oil boom since the sensational Amerasia strike of a few weeks ago. Mineral rights on much of the prospective oil land is owned by the State of North Dakota. If the U. S. Department of the Interior can take over California's oil properties, for educational purposes or "in the interests of national defense," there is no reason why it can't confiscate North Dakota's too.

An interesting sidelight to the proposal is that the oil companies, who are in the position of third parties to the dispute, have been publicly urged to side with the land-grab proponents against the States, on the premise that they would thus achieve good will that would be "a happy insurance policy so that what has happened in Iran would never happen here."

Any resemblance between that suggestion and the ugly practice of blackmail is no doubt purely coincidental.

SMALL BUSINESS

Thousands of letters have found their way into independent businessmen on the Fair Trade Laws. "What can be done?" the majority of them ask.

For one thing, the National Federation of Independent Business, and other organizations, has taken steps to get new legislation introduced. Small businessmen can aid by writing their Congressmen, demanding not only new legislation but also C. W. Harder, the Federal Trade Commission immediately investigate and enforce all provisions of the Robinson-Patman Act.

In writing Congressmen on the Fair Trade Laws it should be borne in mind that controlled price cutting can harm the nation into a severe depression.

Naturally, the drastic price wars of the past few weeks will eventually harm him, but it is probably no more to ask anybody in power in Washington today have vision beyond the ends of their noses.

Don't be blind to effect of this price war. It can do more to wreck economy of country; deliver all business into the hands of a few monopolies than the so-called "police action" in Korea.

And as usual, Washington is months behind. In face of price war, official talk is all on plans to combat rising prices. That's a smoke screen to hide other plans.

It will be up to the businessmen to bring order out of chaos. And while working for stronger Fair Trade Laws and a useful Federal Trade Commission there is.

are several ways that businessmen can protect themselves.

Remember, in the states that have Fair Trade Laws the law can still be enforced. The only big upset by the court decision was that a Fair Trade Agreement is not binding unless the merchants agree in writing to uphold the manufacturer's price.

So, check with your suppliers. If your supplier has required distribution outlets to sign such an agreement, make sure the supplier enforces compliance.

If the suppliers have been lax in this respect, or have not required the agreement in writing, do not buy his merchandise except in small lots just to meet demands of your trade from day to day. You may lose some sales, but lost sales are better than lost inventory dollars.

Where you can, switch to lines that are not being dynamited by the big outlets. You can, with a little extra salesmanship, sell your customers different lines that have quality.

Insist on your suppliers selling you at a price that will enable you to meet the lowest price his line is being sold in your area.

For the immediate present, it will be well to follow this rule:

Keep your inventories as low as possible, even though it hurts, but as stated above, it will be better to lose sales, than lose inventory dollars.

These measures are for your short range protection. Your Congressman supported by organized small business can help you on long range protection. So, write him, insisting that Fair Trade legislation be enacted immediately, and at the same time protest any vote toward any tax increase of any kind until such legislation is enacted.

Recite Vows in Garden Wedding

The lovely garden at the home of Mrs. Earl Lindsey, 3635 Cedar, was the setting for the wedding of her grandson, Allen Earl Lindsey, and Miss Harriet Mason, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Mason of Spring Valley on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Dan Anja, pastor of First Congregational Church, in the presence of 100 guests.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Dorothy Lindsey sang Through the Years and Because and during the ceremony, the Lord's Prayer. She was accompanied by Mrs. Martha Thomas, of the organ, who also played the nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ankle-length frock of white marquisette and a large picture hat of white net. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, carnations and lilies of valley.

Mrs. J. J. Neavitt, who was her sister's matron of honor, wore an ankle-length frock of marquisette. Similarly attired were the bride's maids, Miss Dulcie Lindsey, sister of the bridegroom, in green, Mrs. A. F. Garcia in blue, and Miss Carolyn Griswold in peach. They carried colonial bouquets of mixed pastel asters.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. Jack Henderson, of Salinas, and Aldon E. Lindsey, of Lemon Grove, chose for his best man his brother, Don Lindsey. The ushers were A. F. Garcia, Allen Recio and James Hallin.

A reception was held in the garden immediately following the ceremony. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Sabin of Escondido cut the wedding cake.

Mrs. Bonnie Lindsey was in charge of the gift table and Miss Jackie Walters, of the guest book.

Among the guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Sabin, Valerie and Terry, of Escondido, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sabin and Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams, of Lakeside.

The newlyweds are on a honeymoon trip to Monterey.

Sports Scene

The North Island Post 753, of the American Legion, gave a dinner last Monday evening. Special guests were members of the Post 753 baseball club, which has completed its season in Junior Legion league play for this year. The team represents the Foothill area in their league.

Ray Preston, pitcher, and Bob Rand, catcher, the battery that won for Grossmont the Southern California high school championships, are going into pro baseball. Preston has been signed by the Chicago White Sox for a bonus. Although the sum is not known, White Sox officials hinted it was something like $30,000. Rand, whom many sports authorities think will go far in baseball, has returned from Boston where he and his parents talked with the Red Sox management about signing a Boston contract. Bob has received several offers and has said he will delay signing for a little while.

Answers to last week's sports quiz which was in this column are: 1. Left Gomez led the American Legion. 2. The British version of football is like our game of soccer. 3. The tallest collegiate basketball player in 1951 is Bill Spivey. 4. The Detroit Tigers have never finished last in the standings. 5. The all-time National League home run champ is Hack Wilson and he hit 56. 6. Red Grange was the famous football player who wore number 77. 7. Ted Williams has led the American League in batting four times. 8. The all-time major league stolen bases champion is Ty Cobb and he stole 92 in making the record.

The West Coast Rifle Club held a special July 4th Match at the range last (Wednesday) night. After the four relays of firing everyone enjoyed a weiner roast.

St. John of the Cross

The CYO met at St. John of the Cross Church Sunday afternoon to make plans for summer activities.

They had a beach party at Torrey Pines on the Fourth, featuring a weenie roast and fireworks in the evening.

Next Sunday the CYO will go to the County Fair following 8 o'clock Mass. All young folks of the Parish are welcome.

The Altar Society will meet at a potluck luncheon next Thursday at 11:30 a. m.

VOICE of the Press

Moeser Ouster

Chula Vista Star: During this past week, the announcement was made that Federal Civil Service had refused to confirm the permanent appointment of W. C. Moeser as the OPS boss of the three southern counties. Just why the order was issued, and regardless of whether it is reversed or not will probably be clothed in the secrets of politics, which probably even Moeser will never know the real answers.

Moeser has stated that the decision is no doubt the result of his continual desire to name local people with actual business experience to his key positions in place of accepting "career officials" as sent in under the guise that they have met the full requirements of civil service. And, National Price Bess DeSalle has referred to the San Diego office as a "model" in the establishing of similar offices over the nation.

It smacks of similar difficulties that arose several weeks ago in the Los Angeles offices.

There may be some merit for the new orders, but in the meantime such controversies only add to the confusion that possibly price control is more political than real. It has a tendency to amplify rather than quiet the apprehension of the general public... and without question interferes with the good intentions and beliefs of those who accepted the position some four months ago.

But, then maybe that is the way some people want it, with the three words as their motto, "confuse, divide and conquer." Some of these days the free thinking people of our nation will rise up and run the politicians from the Temple... with hard fisted, clear thinking Americans as the replacements. One by one the need becomes more real.

Which End?

Little Jonathan pointed to a lurid picture in a copy of "King Arthur And His Knights Of The Round Table," and asked, "What's that?" His father answered, "That's a dragon."

Jonathan gave the picture some additional study, then inquired, "What's it draggin'?"

Worth It

Geologists say that the average city lot would produce $3,000 in gold if it were mined a mile down. A few tenants I know would like to dig holes that deep—but just to push their landlords in.

SO, THAT'S WHERE

Attorney Blank was examining a witness in court the other day. "Have you ever been arrested before?" he asked the man. "No, sir," the witness answered emphatically. "Have you ever been in this court before?" "No, sir!" "Are you sure of that?" "Yes, sir!" "Your face looks very familiar—very familiar. Where have I seen you before?" "Well, sir," the witness calmly answered, "I am a bartender in the saloon across the street from here."

Older, No Doubt

Seems we never run short on school stories. One of the best of the recent crop came from a grade school in western Kentucky. The class was studying periods of time, such as era, decade, century and all the rest. Came examination time and one question asked for a definition of the word "millennium." One little boy did it this way: "A millennium," he wrote, "is like a centennial, only it has more legs."

Carelessness

"You're charged with throwing your mother-in-law out of the window. Guilty or not guilty?" "Guilty, your honor. I did it without thinking."

EVIDENCE

A man was charged with shooting a number of pigeons, the property of a farmer. Counsel for the defense tried to frighten the farmer. "Now," he remarked, "are you prepared to swear that this man shot your pigeons?" "I didn't say he shot 'em," was the reply. "I said I suspected him of doing it."

"Ah! Now we're coming to it. What made you suspect the man?" "Well, first, I caught him on my land with a gun. Secondly, I heard a gun go off and saw some pigeons fall. Thirdly, I found four of my pigeons in his pocket, and I don't think the birds flew there and committed suicide."

Good History

Ralph Bellamy tells this one about the woman shopper he overheard in a department store. Trying on a fur coat, she asked the clerk: "This seal coat is fine, but will it stand the rain?" "Madam," replied the clerk, "did you ever see a seal carrying an umbrella?"

BITING QUESTION

The Sunday School teacher was telling the class about Noah and the Ark. Finally she finished and said: "Now . . . are there any questions?" "Yes," replied one little boy in the last row, scratching his ankle. "I'd like to know why Noah didn't kill those two mosquitoes in the first place?"

MINISTER'S WIFE TELLS HOW HADACOL WAS SO HELPFUL

HADACOL Helps Folks With Weak, Run-Down Conditions, Poor Appetite, When Caused by Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

A weak, run-down condition can make life mighty drab for folks who feel that way. Imagine not having a good appetite. Lack of weight and energy oftentimes accompany this condition. When Mrs. Ardena Longaker, a minister's wife, who lives at Rt. 5, Meadowbrook Rd., North Kansas City, Mo., began feeling that way she began taking HADACOL for she had heard how it was helping people with weak, run-down conditions and poor appetite, when due to a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. Now Mrs. Longaker says she feels good and is recommending HADACOL to her friends.

Here is what she says: "I am a minister's wife and am 39 years old. I was run-down, lost weight, was listless, and had no appetite at all. I'm on my fifth bottle now and am amazed at the results. I want to eat all the time now. Most of all, I'm glad to say, I've gained several pounds. HADACOL is so economical, I believe almost anyone can afford it, and I do recommend it to my friends."

HADACOL makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of weak, run-down conditions, stomach distress, nervousness, poor appetite and nagging aches and pains when due to the lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in the system.

AND LISTEN TO THIS! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous complete relief but helps keep such painful distress from returning when caused by such deficiencies. Now that's the kind of product you have been waiting for. That's the kind you should buy and start taking at once.

And HADACOL'S wonderful Vitamins and Minerals come in special pleasant liquid form so they are quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood, ready to go to work at once.

HADACOL IS SO EFFECTIVE Because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ and to every part of your body.

You may have tried other Vitamin preparations or even Vitamin and Mineral preparations, so we make you this offer. Try a bottle of HADACOL today. You be the judge. If you do not believe that HADACOL is the best Vitamin and Mineral preparation you have ever taken, we will gladly send you back your money. That's our positive money-back guarantee.

So be fair to yourself. Don't go through life suffering from these conditions when caused by lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, when relief may be as close as hand as your nearest drugstore.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES There's only one HADACOL. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee.

Sold at all drugstores. Trial size, $1.25, but buy the large family size, only $3.50.

If your dealer does not sell HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, La.

Friendliness in Trailer Court

The Lemon Grove Trailer Court, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Leonzio, 7884 Broadway, was the setting for a lawn party and dinner on the evening of June 20.

Roast turkey, baked fish and all the trimmings to complete a delicious buffet meal were served with all of the residents doing their share in preparation and serving.

Ninety occupants of the court and guests enjoyed the affair. Prizes awarded during the evening went to Mrs. Jack Cox, J. Thomas and Mrs. F. Davis.

Charades concluded the evening's entertainment and the group was unanimous in asking for another potluck dinner soon.

The Leonzios have owned the court for nearly five years. They have 30 trailers and a cottage. The court has become an institution in itself in that all residents are congenial and form one big happy family.

Many of the trailers are surrounded by lovely flower gardens which adds much to the joy of living there.

No Tax Increase

be necessary before the fiscal year 1952-53 if the present program is to be continued.

The budgeted expenditure per A.D.A. in 1951-52 at Grossmont for an estimated 3400 students will be $300, an increase from the $274 budgeted in 1950-51. This cost per pupil is well below the state average cost of $340 per pupil in 1950-51.

Under the proposed budget subject to minor adjustments, revenue totals $1,226,600 of which $365,894 will be derived from local taxes, $628,745 from state and federal apportionments and $231,961 from ending cash balance for fiscal year 1950-51.

Of the $1,025,977 slated for current operating expenses, $39,197 is administration, $623,600 teachers' salaries, $131,920 educational supplies and clerical service, $35,445 operation, $30,910 maintenance, $30,810 fixed charges including insurance and employee's retirement fund contribution, $66,970 transportation and $1,625 food services.

Capital outlay calls for $75,623, undistributed and general reserves for $125,000. It is estimated that the ending balance will be $50,000 below that for the current year.

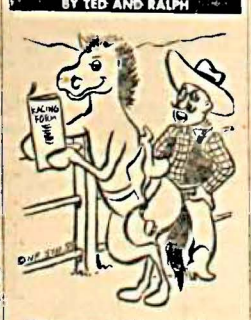

Capital outlay is higher than normal because the state building fund regulations do not provide for equipment and ground improvements essential to a high school program.

Transportation costs are partly borne by state aid but subtracts from funds available for the educational program. It is the strong conviction of the Grossmont Board and administration that the capital outlay and transportation costs coupled with the failure of the state to assume its responsibilities for more equalization aid to poor districts and for inflationary factors have placed an unfair burden on local tax payers. The assembly has been fair to the schools, but the senate and the governor have not, stated Smith.

WHO'S Crippled?

SUCCESS STORY OF THE MONTH

A dual handicap of crippling arthritis and deafness, which would discourage many persons, hasn't prevented Hutton Webster, Jr. of Tucson, Ariz., from achieving national prominence as one of today's leading artists.

Because he hasn't let his handicap keep him from leading a happy, useful life, the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the Easter Seal Agency, and its affiliate, the Arizona Society for Crippled Children, have awarded Webster with the monthly "Who's Crippled" citation.

The award was presented during a special Easter Seal ceremony sponsored by the Pima County Chapter of the Arizona Society before the Tucson Kiwanis Club. A Louis Stonaker, dean of men at the University of Arizona, made the presentation.

Webster, who lives with his wife and two sons in Tucson's Catalina foothills, supports his family entirely with his paintings, despite his physical handicaps. His back and hips are entirely rigid and he has restricted motion in his arms. He also wears a hearing aid.

Because his fingers are stiff and his spine is rigid, Webster cannot work as close to his canvas as he should. He paints standing up, supporting himself with one cane and tying his brushes onto the end of another cane. Behind him there is always a high stool to which a bicycle seat has been fastened so that he can rest for brief periods. His paint is placed on a movable stand, and a crank has been installed for lowering or raising his easel.

Though naturally right-handed, the artist learned to use his left hand while playing games as a child, and that ability is now put to good use. He does the broad areas of his painting with his left hand and details are finished with his right hand. The finished product does not indicate the handicap under which the painting is done and Webster prefers it that way. He wants his work judged solely on its merit.

Webster was stricken with arthritis while attending high school. However, he graduated and went on to college, spending a year at Nebraska University and three years at Princeton. His first recognition came while studying at the Academy of Design in New York.

In 1931, while in his 20's, he was awarded a $1,500 Pulitzer prize for art. After finishing school, he went to Greece to study classical art forms. He has also studied and painted in Spain, France, Italy and England. He fell in love with Greece and plans on returning there to paint and sell his work to help cripples of that country.

When he first came to Tucson in 1943, Webster taught art at Amphitheater High School, giving practical lessons in etching, oil and water color painting, the use of charcoal, composition, landscape and portrait painting. He also taught the history of art.

Though his own will power and persistence brought him to full stature as an artist, his wife merits a large share of credit. She helps him carry out a full working and social schedule, drives him to locations, lifting him into and out of their car. In addition, she finds time to pose for him—as do his two sons, Michael, 5, and Peter, 3.

Artistically, he has achieved wide recognition and is listed in "Who's Who in America." He has won many awards including a first place for etching at the Academy of Design, and the second Hallgarten prize from the same institution. He has had fellowships at the Research studio, Winter Park, Fla., and from the Tiffany Foundation.

Webster's work may be found in many art galleries, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the National Gallery in Washington, D. C., the Art Institute of Chicago, the Library of Congress and the New York Public Library, in addition to the libraries of many colleges and universities.

Wire Products Makes Many Small Articles

Wire Products, 7847 Lester avenue, celebrated its first year in Lemon Grove July 1.

One year ago Charles J. Warrant opened a small manufacturing plant here to produce articles made of wire. The plant has grown during the past year until he now employs two people besides himself, and sometimes a third person is on the job to assist in getting out rush orders.

The company manufactures dozens of articles out of wire, including frames for floral designs, baskets, magazine racks, holders of all kinds, doors for poultry cages, etc.

The business has been practically all wholesale, but Mr. Warrant states that the plant is now equipped so that he can take on orders for local people for just one item or a dozen, or a hundred or more.

Mr. Warrant extends an invitation to Lemon Grove folks to visit the Wire Products plant and see the display of manufactured items.

ing of beneficial uses of water. Phillips cited the example of a person who in watering his lawn permits a stream to run off down the street. That water does no good and is lost, he pointed out. If one small leak will waste 600 gallons of water a month, think what the waste must be from a big stream of water in the gutter. If that stream of water could have been retained on the lawn, it might have been serving a beneficial purpose.
